“ My favorite memory of Heath was when I had my surgery he would come over and spend hrs with me. We would have our smoothies and talk about everything possible what he wanted to do in life why he hadn't done it yet things he wanted to do for the kids, he loved the kids and after we talked he would just sing and play his guitar. I could listen to him forever and the major memory is his smile and laugh when he smiled it could brighten a room and his laugh was so contagious you would have to laugh with him. Heath, I will always love you more, your not hear to debate it but I wish you were and I will miss you always. 💔😭 You are finally home. 🙏
