“ I met Joe when I was just 24 years old. We were cubemates at the EDMC call center and quickly became lifelong friends. For the last 13 years, we've shared the latest tech news, had many call-of-duty sessions, and talked about life, work, and anything that came to mind. There are so many beautiful things to share about Joe. First, he taught me what it meant to push myself at a job, and it's one of the many reasons he had a very successful career. Even though I was younger than him, I always admired his work ethic, and he inspired me to improve. As others have said, his kind heart stood out the most. If I ever needed something, Joe would have given you the shirt off his back - that's the type of person he was. He remembered the minor details about your life that made you feel important. Casey & Andy - he loved you guys tremendously. There won't be a day when something won't remind me of him. I'll miss you...

“ Please accept our sincere condolences. Glen Yore Camp is a hunting and vacation getaway where Joe was a valued member and a friend to all. Twice a year we have weekend work trips. Joe was always a willing participant and hard worker. We will miss the camaraderie and fellowship times together. We remember his upbeat personality and never a harsh word about anyone. Thoughts and prayers are with the family in this difficult time.

“ I am terribly sorry to hear of Joe's passing. Joe was one in a million. Him and I had the opportunity to work together in a new role almost 10 years ago and he always had a smile on his face. He would always light up any time he was given the chance to talk about his wife and son. Although Joe and I both moved on to new roles he would always check in to share a story or to bounce an idea off of me. Joe will be missed. I will be praying for him and his family during this difficult time.

“ I certainly didn't get the opportunity to know Joe long enough. In the short year and a half that I knew him, I could tell he was an authentic person. He never shied away from honesty or doing what was right or the opportunity to talk about those he loved the most. My heart goes out to the family, this is heart breaking news.
