

Lydia J. (Piroli) Palombo

August 7, 1922 - November 7, 2025

Lydia J. (Piroli) Palombo, 103, formerly of Aliquippa, PA passed away peacefully at her home in Southold, NY, on November 7, 2025. She was born on August 7, 1922, in Aliquippa, and was the daughter of the late Oreste and Concetta Piroli.

In addition to her parents, Lydia was preceded in death by her beloved husband, Arthur (Larry) Palombo; her sister, Olga Matakovich; and her brothers, William Piroli, Dr. Duilio D. Piroli, and Gino Piroli.

Lydia was a dedicated employee of the Aliquippa School District, retiring as the superintendent's secretary. She was a member of Mary Queen of Saints Parish, St Titus Church, where she also volunteered and served as an officer of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers. She will be remembered by her loved ones and friends as a genuine and kind lady, and was an inspiration to many for her intelligence, broad cultural interests, accepting nature, and the wonderful friendships and connections she established and nurtured her entire 103 years.

She is survived by her two children, Elaine White of Southold, NY, and Joseph Palombo (and his husband, Paul Redmond Jr.) of Atkinson, NH; her four grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; and many loving nieces, nephews and godchildren.

Private Interment will be at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hopewell Township.

Lydia was a passionate reader and requested that any donations in her memory be made to the B.F. Jones Memorial Library, 663 Franklin Ave,

Aliquippa, PA 15001. (<https://www.beaverlibraries.org/libraries/aliquippa>).

We lived by her and next to her sister Olga. My wife makes the Galette cookies that was their recipe. Such a beautiful soul. We send our love and sympathies to the family.

Piroli family were legendary in Aliquippa and Supino, Frosinone, Italy. No other respectful, faithful family they were.

A beautiful life lived among her siblings, husband, children and extended family.

May you reunite with your Larry and family in heaven.

May the bliss of eternal happiness forever be with you in paradise.

The Golden Gates are wide open waiting for you, Lydia.

God Blessings, Rest in peace.
